Not illustrated. 1884 Excerpt: . . . in session 6 days, the State superintendent is required to convene such institute, the expense not to exceed 50, which amount is allowed to each county for this purpose from public funds. EDUCATIONAL JOURNALS. The principal educational journals in the State are The Iowa Normal Monthly, published at Dubuque, which entered on its fourth volume in August, 1884, and the Central School Journal, Keokuk, in its seventh volume, both containing much to interest and aid teachers in their work. SECONDARY INSTRUCTION. PUBLIC HIGH SCHOOL. The law provides for the establishment of high schools in counties having 2,000 or more inhabitants. There were 36 such schools in 1883-84 approved by the State university as preparatory schools for it. Graduates from these are admitted to the university without farther examination, except in some one branch of study as a test; but certificates from the principals of the schools, with specific statements as to the amount of work done in each study, must be presented. The same rule applies to 15 private and church schools, students from which are received on similar terms. It was proposed that for 1884-85 the list of such accepted schools should be revised and a classification of them be made on the basis of the extent of preparation. This will be likely to lead to a generally higher standard. OTHER SECONDARY SCHOOLS. For statistics of business colleges, private academic schools, and schools for Jitopariug students for college, See Tables IV, VI,...
