Excerpt: .all of which was probably very praiseworthy between two friends; but, when they come into Court for a legal decision, I am bound to find that the defendants had no right to do as they did with the cars and spend so much time upon them, and pay the bill for repairs and be out of service of them in the manner set out; and that, failing to return the cars at once to the plaintiffs, which xLlv. ONTARIO LAW REPORTS. 335 they might have done in pursuance of the contract, they are not Ap elgi entitled to recover the amount of their first counterclaim against i the plaintiff s. MHOQZE It is impossible to support the conclusion arrived at by the LIMITED reasons given--if the defendants intended to repudiate their 11 RQGERS purchase and claim that the contract was void, they might well back the trucks and demand their money back; but that Riddell-1 they did not intend to do, they intended to remain owners of the trucks and to rely upon the contract. Upon the facts of this case they could not do otherwise. I By acting as they did, they did not deprive themselves of the right to sue for damages for breach of the express contract; and, if they have established a breach and consequential damages, they are entitled to judgment on this counterclaim. Even if the case had been, as suggested but hardly argued, that the trucks did not...
